Care and maintenance

Our panels are hot dip galvanized, a surface treatment designed to give the panels the power to withstand moisture and the ability to self-heal from minor damages. Hot dip galvanizing also protects the panels from corrosion and requires no maintenance apart from regular cleaning. The method gives the surface a variation in colour, the grey tone of the panels might differ marginally due to this technique. With time any variation will even itself out. Wipe off any dirt with a damp cloth if necessary.
String galvanized shelves are self-healing. The metal ages but will never corrode. This shelf can withstand any weather and requires no maintenance apart from regular cleaning.
